Girl Scouts, Patriots' Trail Council

Today's Girl Scout isn't just baking cookies, making crafts or learning to sew. She's attending debates at the State House, producing a traveling music concert for nursing homes, or designing an earthquake-proof home.

Today's Girl Scout is learning from mentors in the fields of computers, engineering, law, government, television and radio. She's an entrepreneur, a leader, a self-motivator and a team player. She isn't just leading her troop in cookie sales, she's leading her troop in a September 11th tribute or teaching her parents the true meaning of diversity.

Your donation will help us to ensure that these girls continue to grow into women of courage, character and confidence.

Yes, I would like to attend Cookies & Cocktails!
